

How to Create a Group Exchange Account

Excerpted from <http://kb.iu.edu/data/achr.html>

1. Go to the Account Management Service at: <https://itaccounts.iu.edu/>.
2. Select Manage my IU computing accounts.
3. You might see a page asking you to log into the Central Authentication Service. If so, enter your Network ID. If not, skip to the next step.
4. Click manage group accounts, and then click request new group username.
5. The resulting page will display the current status of your group account requests. Click Request New Username.
6. Enter and re-enter the group username you want in the first two fields; in the "Display name:" field, enter the full name of your group. Select the campus and department associated with the group, and enter a brief description of the group's purpose.
7. Click Submit.

Wait for an email indicating that your group name request has been processed. This could take up to 2 business days, but usually is completed within two hours.

When your username request has been approved, you can create your group's first Indiana University computing accounts by using the Account Management Service (AMS). To create group or departmental email accounts:

1. Go to the Account Management Service at: <https://itaccounts.iu.edu/>
2. Select Manage my IU computing accounts.
3. You might see a page asking you to log into the Central Authentication Service; if so, enter your Network ID, not the new group name.
4. Click manage group accounts, and then click create group accounts. (Note: This is not the same as creating a group name, which you have already done.)
5. When your group account request has been processed, the username you requested will be displayed in a box. Click Select next to the group username.
6. Select the second option -- create a Microsoft Exchange e-mail account to receive your IU e-mail, and click Continue.
7. Create a passphrase for the group account conforming to the requirements displayed and enter it in both boxes. Click Create Accounts and select Exchange.
